

TELL ME THE NEW TALES OF HOPE

Tell me the new tales of hope and please, keep on telling, all the tales you make up or know, till they produce a spark in my soul to ignite the wish to go on living

Comfort me with your soothing voice and don't walk away from me: Help me to fill the overwhelming void, sucking away all my energy, making me almost too numb to feel Convince me with tales, that what I see is just a cruel distortion of reality!

That one day I'll wake up and experience the delights of peace, just like you've been telling me
